ODL Connect single server licence + one hour training session bundle

ODL Connect is a tool which lets you call ODL Studio functionality from the command line. It is designed to let you embed ODL Studio into larger systems, so you can run route optimisation or other tasks in the background. ODL Connect is 100% compatible with existing ODL Studio functionality so you can - for example - run route optimisation in the background and then load the generated vehicle routes into ODL Studio later-on if you need to perform further analysis.

This licence lets you install and run the supplied version of ODL Connect on a single server instance (physical or virtualised) and also includes any versions of ODL Connect released with 12 months of the initial purchase.

This bundle includes a single one hour training and support session, conducted using Skype. In this session we can help configure ODL Connect for you, or answer other questions you may have on its usage.
